Foreword

Members of the journalism class of Frankenmuth High School take great pleasure in presenting the third volume of the Eyrie to the graduates who have gone before as well as to those students still to be graduated.

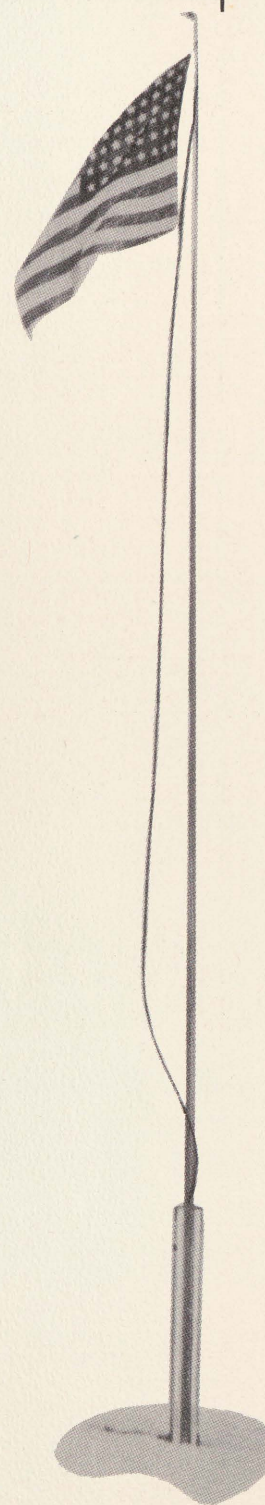

Despite many handicaps and great difficulties in its publication it is our earnest desire to have the annual serve to bring pleasant thoughts or recall happy memories. With the fulfillment of this purpose we will regret neither time nor effort spent to make this the best book possible.

There are places where we have sacrificed "art" in an effort to make each individual or group more outstanding.

Joan Rupprecht
Editor, Eyrie Staff

Dedication

The theme of the yearbook of 1960 is symbolic representative of Frankenmuth High School, "the strong, sturdy, striking American Eagle." Thus, in dedicating the Eyrie to the Eagle we dedicate it to all students of the Frankenmuth school system past and present.

"Through our high school careers we have watched the Eagle become a tradition. The fine record our school has compiled under the Eagle banner has been broad in scope - honors have been taken in the field of sports and academic endeavor. Our record shows that we as students have taken the Eagle and what it stands for to heart. Thus, it becomes the inspiration, the strength -----"

Board of Education

Nineteen sixty marks the last year that the Frankenmuth Public Schools will operate with a five-man board of education. Under a new law becoming effective, a new board will consist of seven members. The objectives of the educational program for this district have always been to have a well-rounded educational program through the entire system.

Objectives include: a program which will allow the student to develop his potentialities to the fullest, to know the culture of our nation and its methods of government. Board members have been in accord with the idea that it is important to develop socially and physically, as well as mentally to produce a worthwhile citizen.

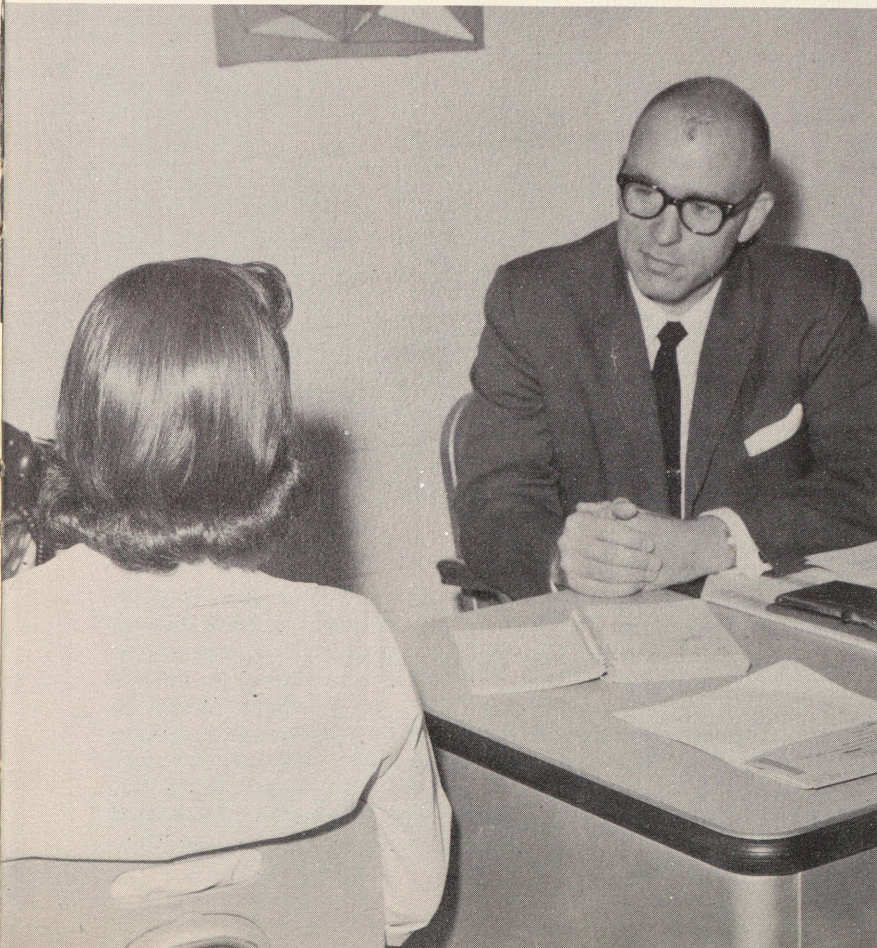

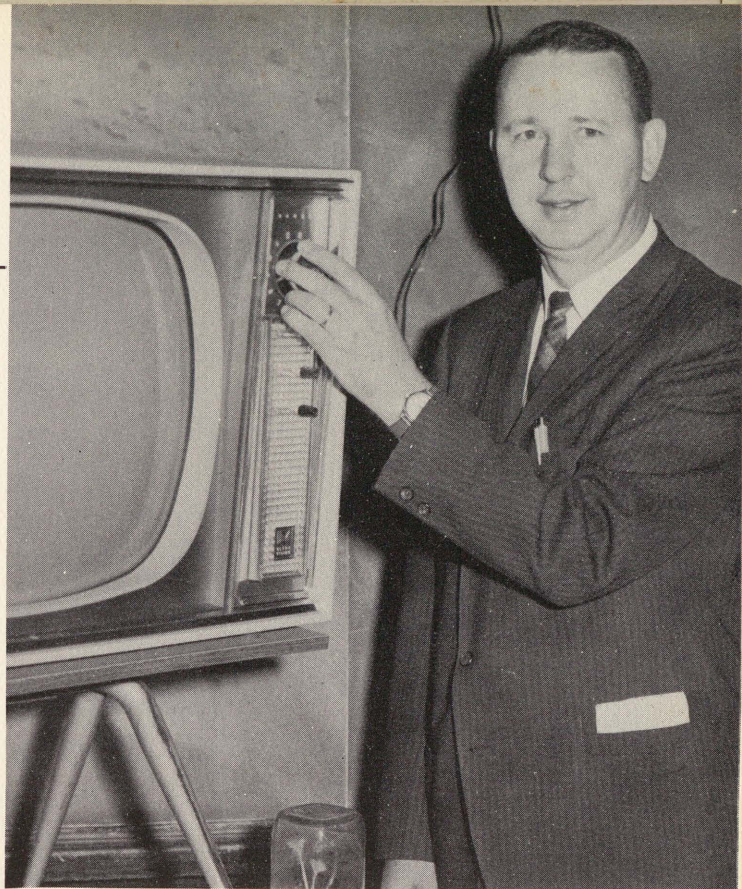

"... a word of praise to the administration and board of education for making our curriculum the criteria of the Eagle, strong and worthy."

Administration

James A. Matteson will leave the Frankenmuth public school system to take up his new duties in the Pigeon-Elkton High School in the Thumb. Mr. Matteson, in July of 1960, concludes eleven years with this system.

Mr. Matteson received his B.S. degree from Central Michigan College in 1949 and came to Frankenmuth. During his first year he taught in the high school and then slipped into the superintendency where he has served for ten years. During this time he received his M.A. degree and has completed many of the requirements for his doctorate in education-administration. In this school year several new phases of education were investigated in conjunction with Central Michigan University. Mr. Matteson here tunes in for the new American History televised program. The class was taught on a junior level.

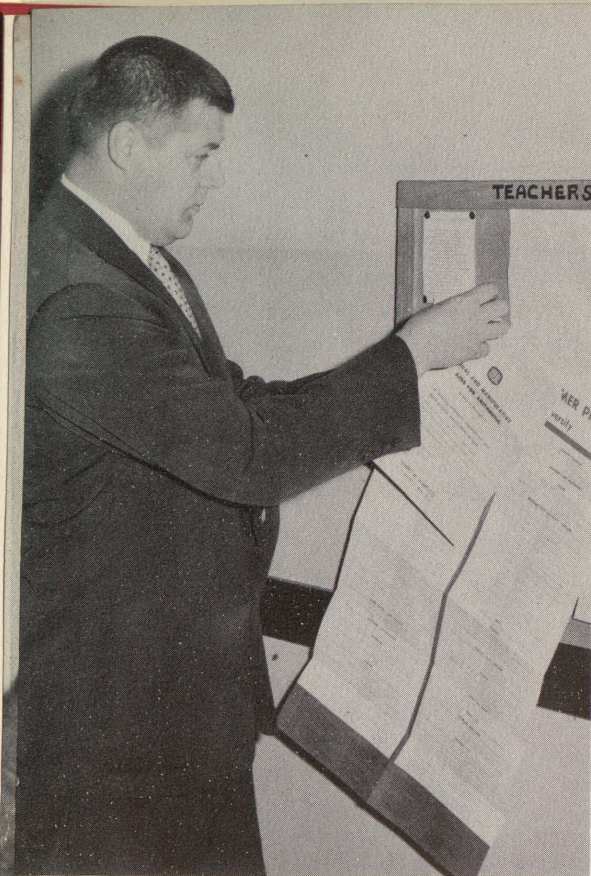

Richard Ziehmer, principal, will serve the Frankenmuth school system as new superintendent, having been appointed for the new school year.

A graduate of Pontiac High School, Mr. Ziehmer continued his education at Eastern Michigan University. Graduating with a Bachelor of Science degree in 1952 he taught at Walled Lake for one year and Almont for three years, coming to Frankenmuth in 1958.

In 1959 Mr. Ziehmer received his Master in Art from the University of Michigan. At the present time he is working on advanced graduate studies.

Elementary Administration

Administration of the elementary school has been in the hands of James Vitany who has worked in close harmony with James Matteson and the Board of Education. Mr. Vitany came to Frankenmuth in 1956 as principal and is still serving in that capacity.

A graduate of Central Michigan University in 1949 with his Bachelor of Arts degree, Mr. Vitany obtained his Masters from the University of Michigan in 1954.

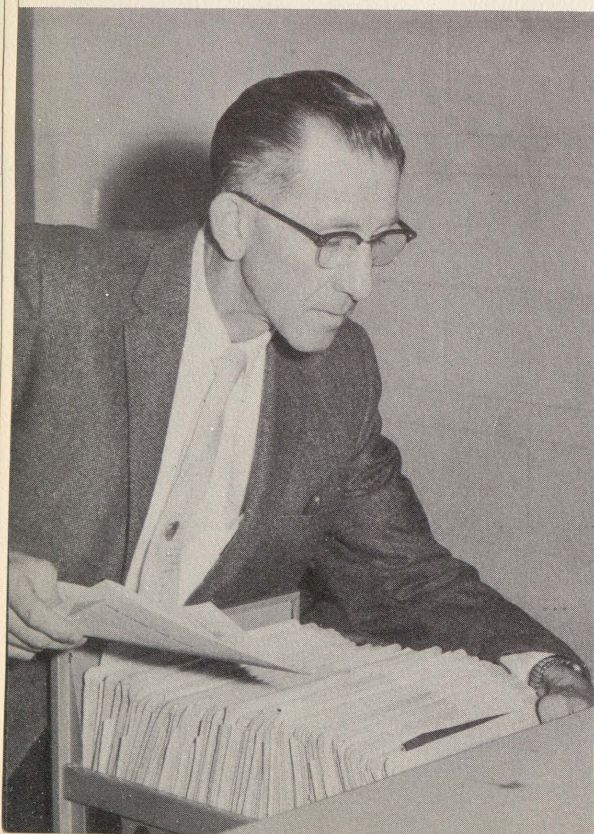

His work includes coaching of junior varsity basketball, elementary teams, and he is assistant football coach.

*May you find success and happiness, Ruth.
I have enjoyed working with you Kaczynski Helena*

Guidance and Counselling

The guidance and counselling program has grown in proportion to that steady growth of the school. In 1957 Robert Wallen, in addition to his duties as principal, served as counsellor. In 1958 Tracy Stockman was hired to handle psychology and counselling as well as teaching. When he took over the duties of principal, Homer Stinchcombe became head of the counselling and testing program, capably assisted by Mrs. Helena Kaczynski, on a part time basis. Both Mr. Stinchcombe and Mrs. Kaczynski are graduates of Central Michigan University with Masters degrees from the University of Michigan.

Secretaries and Office Personnel

Mrs. Charlotte Worley, secretary and friend, handles the work of the principal's office. Mrs. Worley has been in her present position since moving to Frankenmuth in 1957. Of her family of three boys, the eldest, Kenneth, graduated with this year's class.

Doris Beyerlein, graduate of Frankenmuth High School, is completing her second year as secretary in the office of the superintendent. During the forepart of the year Mrs. Donald Bruns was also a member of the working team. Karen Janson, member of the class of '60, lower right, has worked in the co-op program and will continue as a full-time employee when the school year ends.

Hot Lunch

Transportation

Friendly Carl Stromer, head of transportation at F.H.S. keeps the school buses in excellent condition at all times. Mr. Stromer also drives the school bus every day and takes the athletes to games and meets.

Custodians

An exceptionally clean school and neat grounds is the result of the work of this happy crew. Standing: Ron Palmreuter, left to right, Leroy Parlberg, Alois Schmitzer, Mrs. Schmitzer, and Kurt Schmitzer. Mr. Schmitzer, head custodian, along with his wife and son, have a full-time job in keeping our school pleasant. Assisted by Ron Palmreuter and Leroy Parlberg, the group does a tremendous job. William Gallagher, who is absent, is also on the janitorial staff.

Faculty

"... a word of tribute to our teachers for making our curriculum the criteria of the Eagle, strong and worthy. Our education, together with our energy and perseverance, will not allow us to fade into a life of the mediocre."

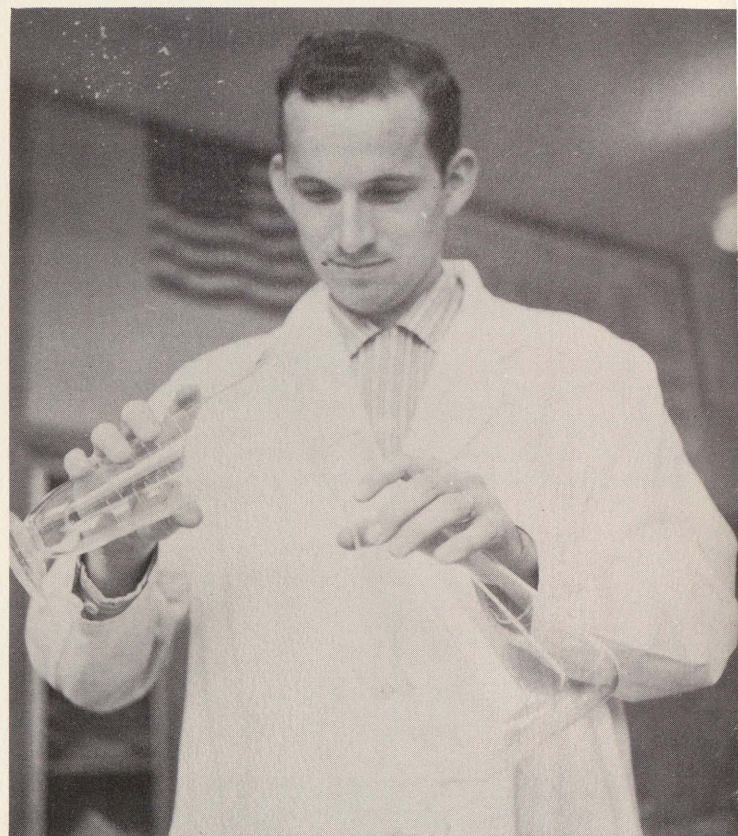

GILBERT HAVEN, B.S., - C M U , discusses a problem with H. Lelo, Jr. Mr. Haven has been a member of the staff for the past three years and taught plane geometry, solid geometry and trigonometry, in addition to mechanical drawing.

MISS BONNIE SLOAN, B.S. - U of M, spent only the current year at Frankenmuth. She will return to her home town of Bay City, where she has accepted a position. While here she taught German and sophomore English. Pictured here, she is teaching students B. Schluckebier and M. Heine, freshmen, the fine art of bridge playing, a noon hour activity.

Faculty of

Always busy with his test tubes and beakers, CHARLES DORCEY, B.S. - C M U , will leave Frankenmuth after two years to attend the University of Michigan, where he will work at his Master's degree on a National Science Foundation scholarship. Plans call for his return at the end of the 1960-'61 school year. In addition to his beloved chemistry, Mr. Dorcey taught general science.

Frankenmuth High School —

CARL NORDSTROM, B.S., M.A. - C M U and U of M, has headed the music department for the past two years. He has worked in music programs in both the high school and elementary grades. In addition he taught geography and government and economics.

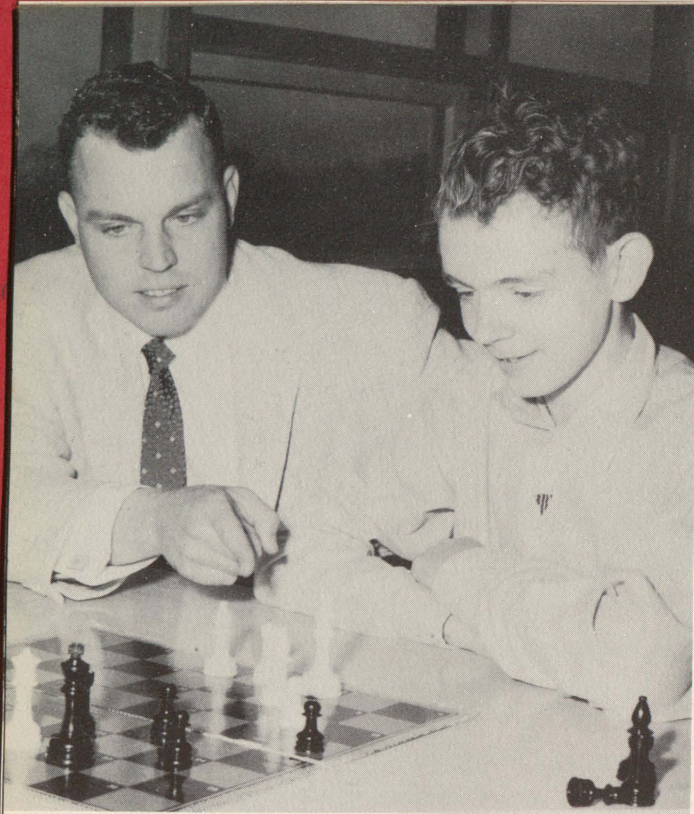

THOMAS THOMPSON, B.S., M.A. - C M U and U of M, worked with freshman English and government and economics for the seniors. He has been with this system for the past four years.

MARCO MARCET, B.S. - C M U , has completed six years with this school system in commercial subjects and related areas. He has served also as athletic director for the school.

CHARLES BARTEL, B.A., B.S. - C M U , is a newcomer to Frankenmuth High School. He taught world history, typing, geography, and general business and also coached debate. Pictured here, he is directing C. Veitengruber in the fine art of chess playing, a noon hour activity.

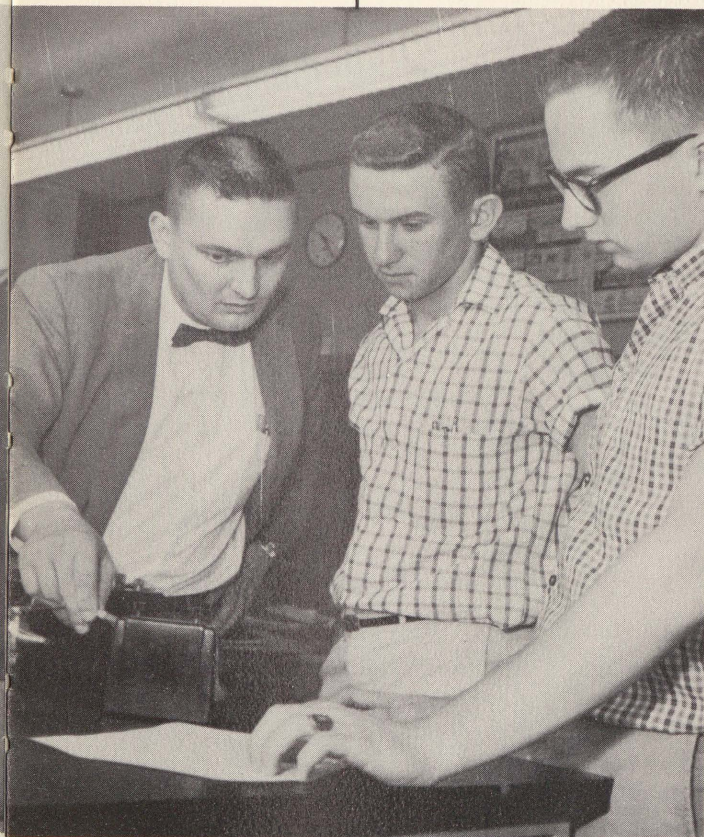

LOUIE WEISS, B.A. - MSU, has completed four years with his home town high school after having taught in other highschool systems. He heads the co-op training program, teaches business law, office practice, typing, and subjects related to commercial activities. Here, he instructs D. Biermann in the use of an office machine.

WARREN NABER, B.S., M.A. - NMC. and U of M, has been active in general shop work, advanced shop and auto mechanics for the past four years. Here, he directs R. Stellwag during an auto mechanics class.

MISS LOIS CURTIS, B.A. U of M, introduced speech to the school in the fall of 1959 and completed a successful year. In addition to speech and junior English, Miss Curtis coached forensics. She will return in the fall for her second year here.

JAMES OWENS, B.S. - W M U , has completed his second year on the teaching staff, coming to Frankenmuth directly from his college training. His work is in the field of mathematics and science where he teaches general math, physics, general and advanced algebra. Working out an experiment is serious business with T. Weiss and R. Campeau.

MISS PATRICIA SIMKO, B.S. - M S U , in charge of the home economics program, also assists Mr. Zink in the televised American history class for high school juniors. Miss Simko will return to Frankenmuth for her second year in the fall. Here she directs K. Uebler on the use of sewing machine attachments.

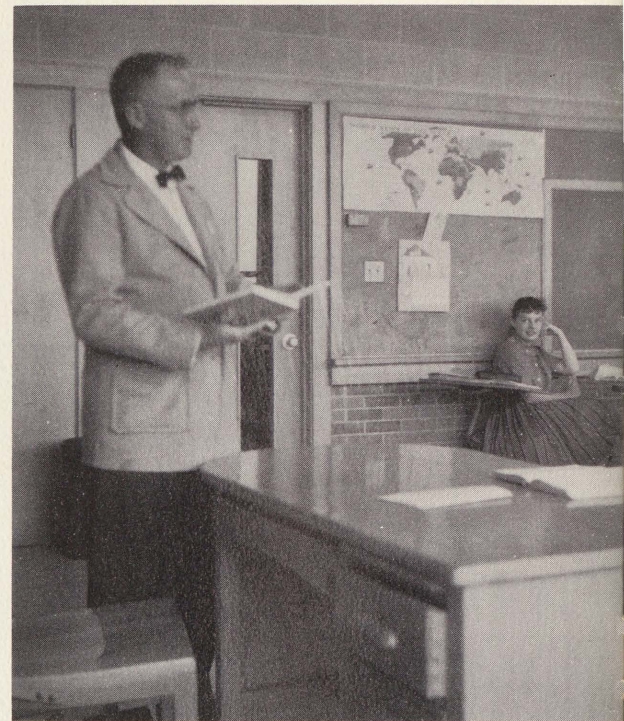

MRS. MARGRET WILLIS, B.S. - E M U , has completed four years in Frankenmuth. Her subjects are senior English, journalism, and art. — She is advisor for both the high school newspaper, the "Eagle Echo," a printed publication, and the "Eyrie," the school yearbook. Pictured here, J. Rupprecht and Mrs. Willis discuss a page of the yearbook.

ALFRED ZINK, A. B. - E M U , has completed 35 years of teaching in the Frankenmuth system, having in fact, grown up with the school. His duties are many and varied, but his first love is the teaching of American History. During this year Frankenmuth affiliated with C.M.U. under a TV program for teaching American history. This program was directed by Mr. Zink, who also taught three sections of biology.

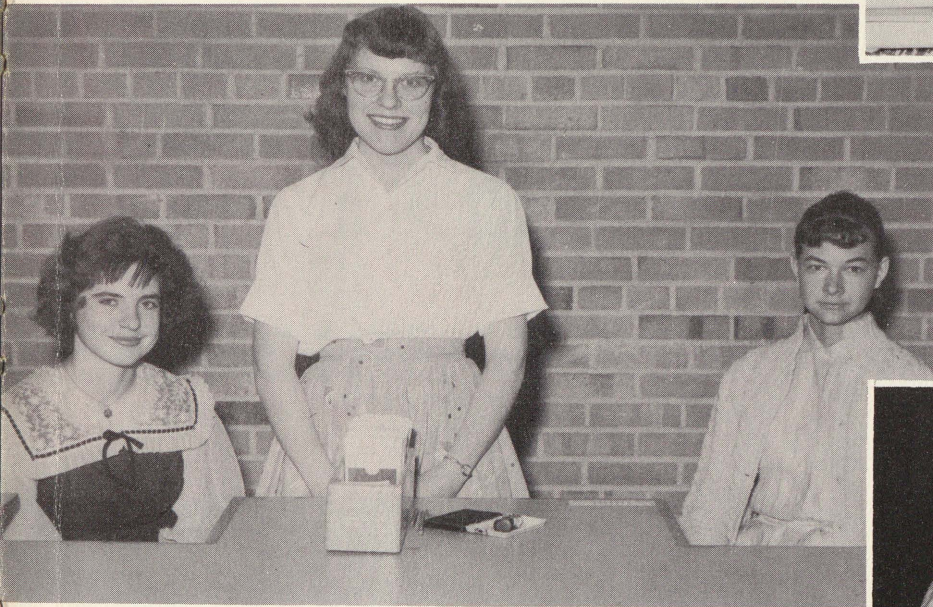

"COACH" HARRY KACZYNSKI, B.S. - C M U has spent five years with the Frankenmuth Eagles directing sports activities. He watched his football squad enjoy three undefeated seasons — and in the fourth year only one defeat. He also coached track and basketball. Here he discusses track work with R. Heine, junior. Both enjoy the warm spring day.

Library

MISS PHILIPPA YELLAND, A.B., A.B.L.S., M.S.U. and U of M, is in reality no longer a teaching member of the faculty. She serves instead as a full-time librarian, coming to this system four years ago with the opening of the library. She has been instrumental in setting it up under the Dewey decimal system and bringing it up to North Central standards. Here she explains to Dorothy Lamb, library assistant, the classification of books for the shelf.

Library assistants M. Schomaker, D. Lamb, and K. Ransom help keep the flow of books over the circulation desk in smooth operation.

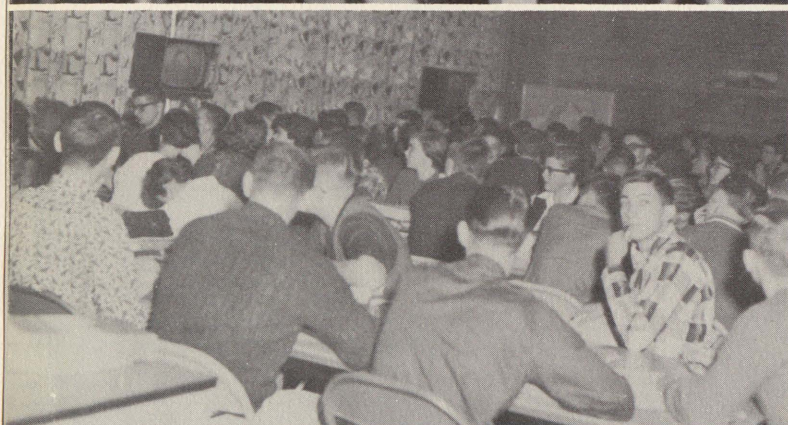

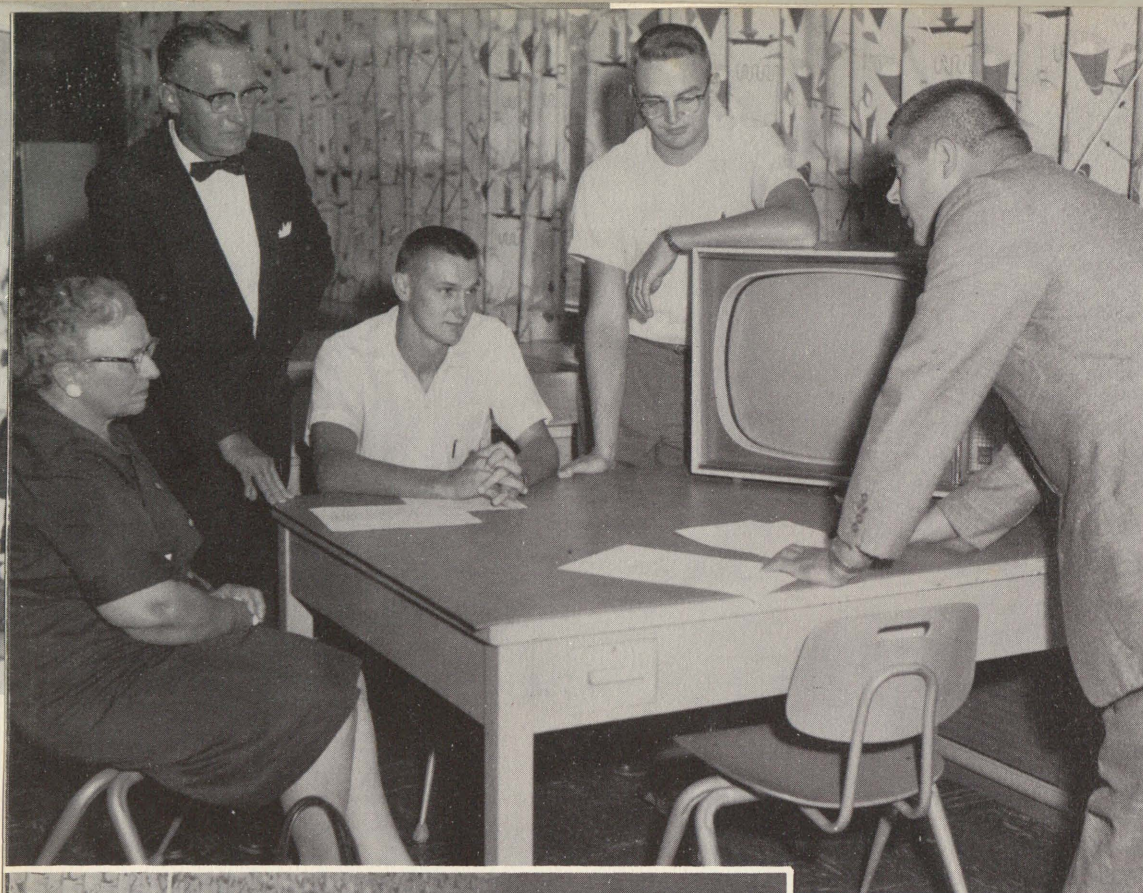

The third annual Book Fair was thoroughly enjoyed by students as well as adults. Six hundred of the best books produced in 1959 were displayed by the librarian. Nature hobbies intrigue B. Zuellig and C. Boike.

School Broadens Program

Frankenmuth District School, during the school year, entered into a broadened curriculum which included teaching American history in high school and science in the elementary by televised program. The heart of the program was in Central Michigan University.

Included also was a direct teaching program with the University. Under this program future teachers of the college trained under our extern program, working with co-operating teachers throughout the various departments of the school. Each group assigned spent eight weeks and were encouraged to live in the community and participate in community affairs.

Upperclassmen

"We speak of the future, but how can we know what the world has in store for us within the coming years? . . . . . life will be more complex as the years roll by . . . . . to adjust to these rising conditions we have but to follow our motto, 'In Ourselves Our Future Lies.'

". . . . . we know, too, that we can achieve only with an open mind, our faith in God, and the help of those about us. Thus, the Eagle becomes the strength for other walks of life."

Senior Class History

On September 3, 1956, one hundred and thirty eager freshmen entered the doors of Frankenmuth High School. Everyone was anxious to get started because high school was a new experience for them. The first officers for the class of '60 were: Malcolm Blackwood, president; Charles Nickless, vice-president; Karen Janson, secretary; and Lynn Mueller, treasurer. Members of the Student Council were George Frank and John Hubinger. Concentrating on growing accustomed to high school the class sponsored only one all school dance and participated in several work days.

The freshman initiation was the main event of the sophomore year, along with several car washes, bake sales, work days, and dances. Directing the class were: Charles Nickless, president; Peter Janson, vice-president; Karen Janson, secretary; and Lynn Mueller, treasurer. George Frank, Margaret Knight, and John Hubinger were elected to the Student Council.

The junior year was the most exciting year for the class of '60, as the class sponsored the annual Krazy Karnival and the Junior-Senior Dinner-Dance, projects which provided fun and valuable experience in working together. Led by their capable officers: Tom Leach, president; Donald Lindow, vice-president; Karen Janson, secretary; and Lynn Mueller, treasurer; the class completed another successful year of high school. Elected to the Student Council were: George Frank, Margaret Knight, and John Hubinger.

The class opened their fourth and final year of high school with the election of the following: Tom Leach, president; James Zehnder, vice-president; Karen Janson, secretary; and Martin Geyer, treasurer. Student Council members were George Frank, John Hubinger, and Tim Keinath. Highlights of their senior year were the senior class play and the class trip to Mackinaw Island. At last the long-awaited day arrived, graduation and the end of four memorable years of high school. The class had reached their goal.

For the second consecutive year Frankenmuth High School has had exchange students from Germany. Sponsored by the Michigan Council of Churches, Barbara Scherzberg and Peter Henseler arrived on August 7, 1959.

Barbara, during her stay in Michigan, was a member of the Robert Kline household, rural Frankenmuth. Peter lived at the Arthur Leach home in Bridgeport.

It was a busy year for the two visiting students, due to the many extracurricular activities in which they participated.

On July 13, 1960, they sailed for their homes, Barbara to Iserlohn, Westphalia, while Peter lives at Burscheid near Cologne.

Senior Trip

It was a sleepy group of seniors who boarded three school buses at 3 a.m. on Saturday, June 4, to embark on their 24-hour senior class trip. They elected to go to Mackinaw Island. The group, with their sponsors, arrived in Mackinaw City at 8:30 a.m. and took the 9:00 boat, "Huron," over to the Island. A one o'clock luncheon was served in the Grand Hotel. The afternoon agenda was filled with a choice of many activities, including; horseback riding, bicycle riding, carriage trips, swimming, and walking to the many points of interest on the Island. At 5:00 the exhausted seniors and sponsors left the Island, returning to Frankenmuth at 12:00, thus completing their last fun-filled day as a class.

Commencement

After four arduous years 104 students graduated from Frankenmuth High School on the evening of June 8. The beautiful, clear evening marked the second consecutive year the program took place under the stars. The solemn procession filed across the field before a stadium filled with interested relatives and friends. Members of the faculty in the colorful gowns and cowls completed the procession and headed the recessional. Led by Carl Nordstrom the school band played "Pomp and Circumstance" for the affair. Richard Schluckbier sang the class song "You'll Never Walk Alone," accompanied by Richard Neuchterlein at the organ. Commencement speaker was Dr. Robert Lusk. (Explanation of pictures, see page 83).

and Baccalaureate

Seniors and faculty gathered at the old Lutheran Museum on June 5 to form the processional for the Baccalaureate or spiritual ceremony of their graduation exercises. The service included music and a clear-cut talk to the class by the Reverend Carl Mehlberg, pastor of St. Lorenz Lutheran Church. (See page 83 for picture explanation).

Valedictorian Address

Greetings; Parents, Faculty Members and Friends.

It is my pleasure to come before you tonight as a representative of my class, a fact which I deem an honor. I have chosen to talk about symbols since we live in a world of symbols. Uncle Sam, the old gentleman with the goatee and red, white and blue garb is a symbol of these United States--a single musical note reminds us of past pleasure or future anticipation of music. I could go on and talk about symbols and their connotations all evening, however, I have selected one in particular and that is our strong, sturdy, striking American Eagle. As most of you know this same Eagle is the official emblem, the proudly worn emblem, of Frankenmuth High School. This insignia is more than just something to put on football jerseys or to use as a "mascot" for our athletic teams; it represents the bravery, courage, and strength for which Eagles are known.

Rulers of men down through the ages--the Roman Caesars, the German Emperors, and later the Czarist Russia, and Napoleonic France each chose the Eagle as the symbol or emblem of state. In 1787 our own new nation took as its emblem the bald Eagle which remains as its symbol or insignia to this day. We find it everywhere in all shapes and sizes, gracing our coins, topping our buildings of state and in important military identifications, Americans have always respected and honored it because of the high ideals for which it stands.

The class of 1960 first came in close contact with the Eagle emblem when we entered Frankenmuth High School as Freshmen, four long or short years ago. Our enrollment marked the first year that F.H.S was a full four year High School ready to complete activities for the first graduation class. Throughout our high school careers we have watched the Eagle become a tradition. The fine record our school has compiled under the Eagle banner has been broad in scope - honors have been taken in the field of sports and academic endeavor. Our record shows that we, as students, have taken the Eagle and what it stands for to heart. Thus, it becomes the inspiration, the strength, for other walks of life, which we will encounter now as we leave the Eyrie, the nest of the Eagle. This insignia will help us in the future for just as the eagle soars to lofty heights in the sky so we can set our sights high to achieve our goals in life. When the going gets rough and which it most likely will, we can always look back to the Frankenmuth Eagle and use its attributes, namely courage, strength, and power to see us through the future.

We speak of the future, but how can we know what the world has in store for us within the coming years? The cold war with the Communistic nations, with its ever increasing insidious pushing, leaves us with an insecure feeling co-existence is just a word. Also, the mushrooming of knowledge within the last ten years plus the exploration of space proves to us that life will become more complex as the years roll by. To combat and adjust to these rising conditions, we have, but, to follow our motto, "In Ourselves Our Future Lies." This well-known slogan was selected by the class of 1960 as our motto in the hope that it would help us to extend ourselves to the fullest to attain our goals. Certainly, such great Americans as George Washington, Benjamin Franklin, and Abraham Lincoln could not have succeeded in building the United States into one of the greatest nations in the world without this fundamental faith in themselves and a greater faith in God.

While it is true "our future lies within ourselves" we know too, we can achieve only with an open mind, our faith in God and the help of those about us. We draw knowledge from our homes, our church, our teachers, our surroundings, and then seek from within ourselves to understand and to plan. We are here tonight with a greater understanding of our future problems because of the interest, the inspiration, the co-operation, the understanding and the help of our teachers, our families and our experience. We have assembled this knowledge in varied degrees by our own ability to fit the material within ourselves.

Thus, to our teachers our class now pays a tribute along with a word of praise to the administrators and board of education for making our curriculum the criteria of the Eagle, strong and worthy. - Thank you.

And now to you my classmates--

Tonight marks the end of our high school career. Our tasks, activities, and joys are ended, and all that remains to us are the memories and the friendships.

The small unpleasantnesses which might have occurred have passed into forgetfulness. We are now taking our last good look at Frankenmuth High School.

The grind of daily lessons, the tasks imposed, the years of homework are behind us. Through the regret of leaving here, never to be together as a body again, there shines a joy of accomplishment, a forward look and an anticipation of the future. Our education together with our energy and perseverance will not allow us to fade into a life of the mediocre. Remembering our motto "In Ourselves Our Future Lies" we thank our parents and friends for the wonderful incentive offered and in the name of our class I bid you all a sincere farewell as the class of 1960 marches forward.

Salutatorian Address

Parents, Faculty, Classmates, and Honored Guests

The close of this year will be a most memorable occasion to us since it is graduation night. We have all been looking forward to this occasion with much anticipation since the day when we first entered high school.

We think of this as the end of the road, but it isn't really the end of the road but the beginning of life under altogether different circumstances.

Up to the present time, our parents and our teachers have helped us, telling us what to do and what not to do, but now we must strike out for ourselves.

We are deeply grateful to our parents, our teachers, our church, and our community for their contribution in helping us achieve our goal. For without their help and guidance we would not be here tonight. We salute you for your never failing encouragements, guidance, and efforts to help us through these past years.

Junior Class History

Four exciting years of high school opened for the class of '61 on September 3, 1957. An initiation by the sophomores gave the 130 members of the class their first taste of the grand whirl of school activities. No outside activities were sponsored by the class during their first year.

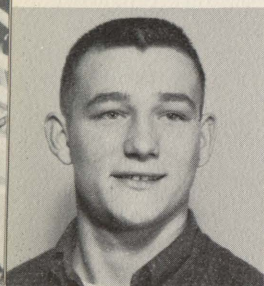

The big project for the sophomore year was a work day held in the spring of the year.

The '59-'60 school year was an eventful year for the class who now numbered 110. Class members proved to be ready and willing to work as they labored to raise funds for putting on the Junior-Senior Dinner-Dance. First on the schedule of activities was a work day, followed by a car wash, an Italian spaghetti dinner, and the Krazy Karnival, an annual project of the Junior Class. The juniors closed the year with sponsorship of an outstanding Prom. The class, led by Lewis Simpson, transformed the gym into a beautiful "Oriental Garden," complete with pagodas, Japanese lanterns and a bubbling fountain.

Sophomores

The class of '62 readily entered the fast pace of school life and sponsored a "Bunny Hop," the main project of their freshman year. Several more dances and a car wash were on the agenda for the sophomore year.

Freshmen

Seventy-nine anticipating freshmen entered high school in September of 1959. This was the beginning of four exciting years for the class of 1963. The class sponsored a dance, first on the list of projects for their high school years.

Student Council

The Student Council, governing body of the school, was headed by Charles Nickless, student body president. Under the direction of Charles and advisor Marco Marcet, the group sponsored several activities, such as, the annual Homecoming activities and the first "Silver Holiday" Christmas dance.

The Council is composed of twelve representatives, three from each class, and a president. Through an amendment passed during the latter part of the year, the membership of the Council will be increased to five representatives from each class in the coming school year. Another amendment changed the two-week deadline on activity sheets to one week.

Nominations for next year's student body president were made at a caucus during the latter part of the school year. Those nominated for the office are: Michael Nuechterlein, Robert Hart, Marjorie Mueller, Tom Weiss, and Joan Rupprecht.

Above the band is presenting their spring concert, an annual event. The band also put on a Christmas Concert and for the first time presented half-time shows for the enjoyment of the spectators at football games.

Journalism

Journalism as a class in the Frankenmuth high school is well-rounded. Here students learn by doing, that is; they plan, produce, and meet all costs of a modern letterpress newspaper; they plan and produce a yearbook. The newspaper known as the "Eagle Echo" has been in existence for four years and the "Eyrie" yearbook has been produced by the class for three years.

Due credit for a beautifully decorated gym must be given to Lewis Simpson and his decorating committee who worked long and hard to produce the "Oriental Gardens" setting. Literally hundreds of colored slides were taken of the beautiful room and many parents visited the school during the evening.

Athletics

"The Eagle insignia is more than just something to put on football jerseys or to use as a mascot for our athletic teams; it represents the bravery, courage and strength for which Eagles are known."

Cheerleaders

These are F.H.S.'s vivacious cheerleaders who faithfully supported the boys and led spectators in enthusiastic yells for the teams. Cheerleaders are chosen each year by a group of faculty members. The girls are chosen for their ability; thus, only the most agile are acceptable.

Above, saluting the teams in an "F" are the varsity cheerleaders. Front to back: C. Fischer, J. Kline, J. VanWormer, S. Rummel, M. Suppes, and K. Janson, captain.

Mary Ann Suppes and Karen Janson are both seniors and have been on the squad for four years. This was the first year of cheerleading for Jan Kline, also a senior.

Homecoming

Varsity Basketball Team

Although the team won only six of the 16 games they played, the boys proved to be stiff competition in many games. In the district tournaments at Lakeville, the Eagle cagers won their two preliminary games against Millington and Marlette, but were defeated for the district championship by Mayville.

These two smiling girls won a badminton trophy for F.H.S. at Cheasaning on March 19. They are Elizabeth Brender (left) and Julie VanWormer. Eight other schools were competing in the tournament.

Tumbling Team

Elementary School

"In 1787 our own new nation took as its emblem the bald Eagle, which remains as its symbol or insignia to this day. We find it everywhere in all shapes and sizes . . . . Americans have always respected and honored it because of the high ideals for which it stands."

Elementary Grades

One cannot close the book of 1960 without mentioning here the fact that a new elementary school is in the offing.

Successful on the second try the people of Frankenmuth school district voted to add a new school for the grades, east of the present high school and across the gulley, facing highway M-38.

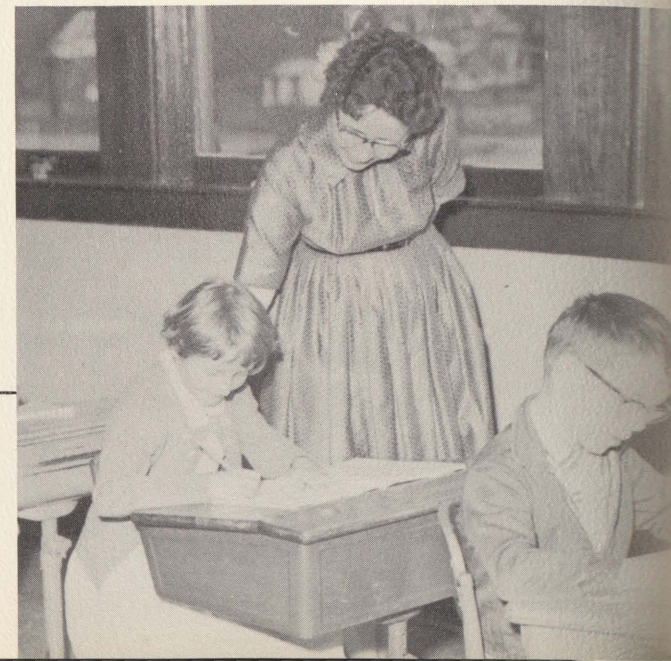

MRS. LEONA STARKE, (above) B.S. - C.M.U., has been in charge of the kindergarten in this system for eleven years.

MRS. PEARL ZINK, (above) A.B. - E.M.U., for eight years has been with the first grade.

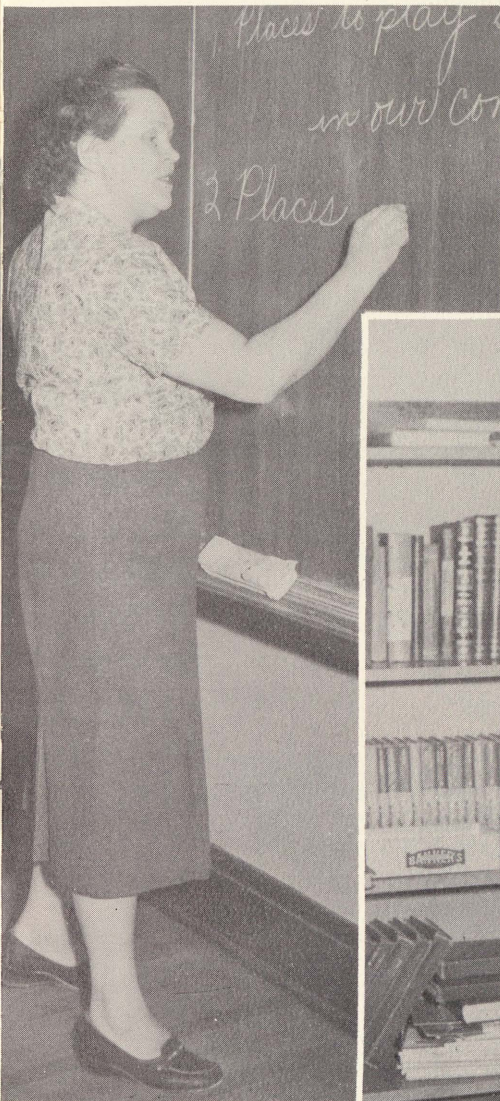

MRS. GERTRUDE SALISBERY, (above) B.S. -C.M.U., has completed two years in Frankenmuth, coming here from Vassar. She teaches second grade.

MRS. GLADYS SCHELHAAS, (below) Life Certificate C.M.U., is continuing her education while teaching in the third grade. She has been on the staff for four years.

MRS. LORRAINE THOMPSON, (below) B. S.- C.M.U., enjoys her fourth grade students. A member of the elementary staff, she has been in the system for three years.

MRS. HAZEL HEINE, (above) B.A. - W.M.U., has spent the past four school years as instructor in the fifth grade.

MRS. ALICE BOSTON, (left) B.A. - E. M.U., teaches kindergarten in the forenoons and sixth grade in the afternoon, being the only teacher in the elementary system teaching split grades. She has been here two years.

RONALD HILDNER, (left) B.S. - C.M.U., and ROBERT DeMAIN, B.S. - C.M.U., junior high school, joined the local staff two years ago. They have taken an active part in the sports and extracurricular activities.

Pictured above is the staff of the Eyrie 1960. The staff, for the most part, is drawn from the journalism class with Mrs. Margret Willis as advisor. BACK ROW: Left to right, M. A. Suppes, copy editor; J. Zehnder, sports; J. Jordan, managing editor; S. Simpson, office manager; T. Leach, photographer; R. Kern, advertising; L. Parlberg, sports; L. Felgner, photographer. SEATED: D. Biermann, layout; T. Keinath, layout; G. Frank, business manager; J. Rupprecht, editor; C. Fischer, advertising; M. Zeilinger, circulation; M. Willis, advisor. Several members of the staff, not pictured, were representatives of their classes. They are: D. Frakes, M. Fijak, seniors; B. Hart, B. Vanek, juniors; M. Loesel, M. Schutt, sophomores; D. Hart, R. Fischer, freshmen.

The Yearbook Staff Speaks:

Since the Eyrie was scheduled for fall distribution, much of the work was completed as the end of the school year approached. A yearbook is, for the most part, a book of memories of high school days; thus, material in this book covers spring sports activities, a short record of the Junior-Senior Prom, the largest social event of the year; and relates a record for students of that epoch-making cross over the threshold of the close local work of getting a diploma into the world of higher education and activities of the world in general. The graduating class of 1960 is typical of the thousands of students who have emerged from school all over these United States. May they meet the requirements of the future and bear always in themselves the wonder of our working democracy, seeking to uphold its honor and preserve its integrity.

With Best Wishes,
Joan Rupprecht, Editor

At this time special mention is made of the fine photographic work of Tom Leach, senior; Len Felgner, junior; and Peter Henseler, exchange student, senior class. Each has given untiringly of his time, energy and know-how in the dark room.

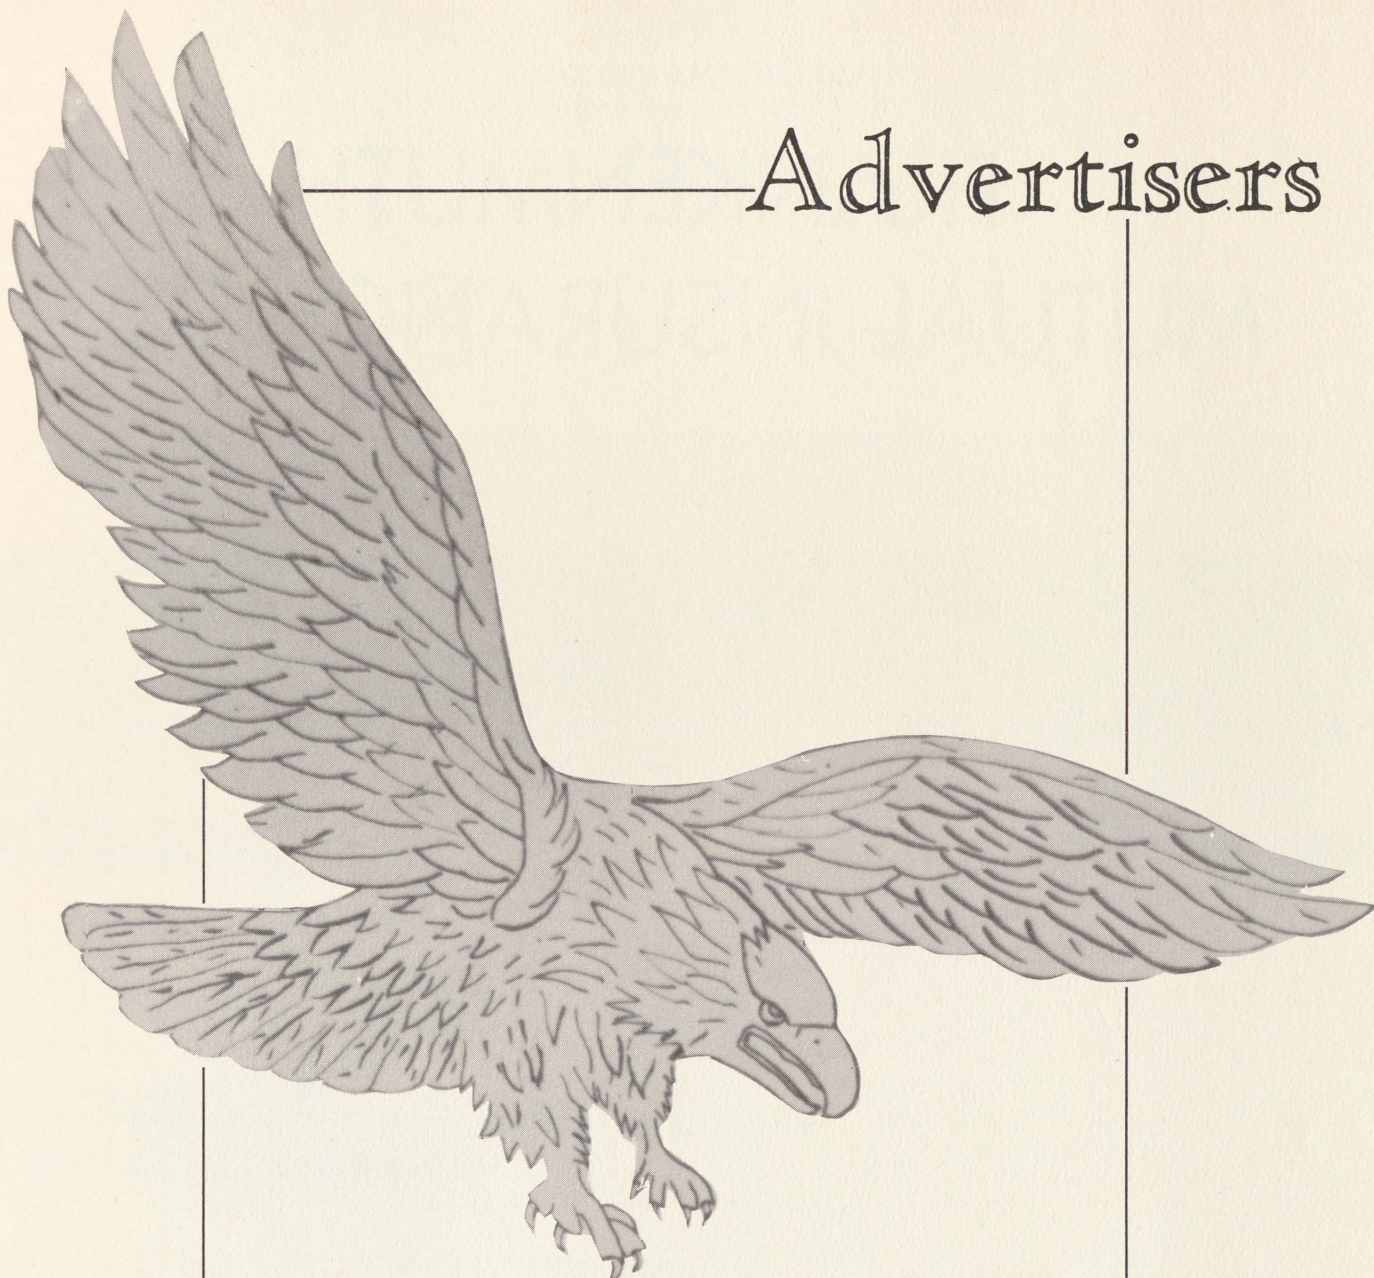

Special mention is made of the fine work of Joan Rupprecht, junior, whose power of organization of material and hours of typing are evident in the completed project.

Lastly, we wish to acknowledge the wonderful financial help of our advertisers, without whose generous assistance the yearbook would not have been possible. We ask our students to bear in mind the members of industry and businesses of Frankenmuth who have supported the Eyrie and to realize, too, that small town industry and business is the backbone of our nation.

Advisor - Margret Y. Willis

works on an experiment. A scene from a hard-working shop class finds D. Bierlein, E. Reif, C. Laux, J. Lindow, and A. Haubenstricker all busy.

PAGE 51, Snapshots taken in the classroom during journalism period include an animated discussion by C. Fischer and C. Nickless, while J. Jordan and J. Zehnder look on. Doing paste-up on layout brings about a real problem to be ironed out by G. Frank, A. Loesel, D. Vance, while F. Beyerlein (rear) and D. Zuellig (standing) look on and C. Greenberg looks bored. M. Suppes is adding her two cents worth. Lower right winning a second place in all-class printed newspapers was reason for a celebration of cake and punch enjoyed by L. Phillips, J. Jordan, and J. Kline (background), and S. Simpson and M. Zeilinger. Left 1. Five Frankenmuth seniors enjoy a day at Central Michigan University (attended by all members of the class) 1. G. Frank, T. Keinath, A. Loesel, D. Zuellig, F. Beyerlein.

PAGE 54, An oriental house was the center of attraction at the prom! Rev. Lawson Knight and wife admire the students after finishing their dinner. S. Simpson and C. Schmitzer are all smiles for the camera. Standing under a pagoda are C. Goodman and her escort. Enjoying the program are J. Techentien, D. Johnston, J. Riethmeier and escort, L. Lee and E. Edmonds. With backs to the camera are K. Burgess and C. Laux. Blossoming trees and a pagoda are the setting for a picture of M. Laux and her escort, while posing on the bridge are J. Loesel and J. Korf. R. Hart and his date are enjoying a rock and roll number. M. Gerschefske and R. Cronk are in the foreground of this picture taken at the dinner. The orchestra provided wonderful music for dancing, at least T. Sleamon and S. Wendel seem to be enjoying it. The dance floor is filled again after a brief rest; dancing are: Miss Curtis, K. Burgess, C. McConnell and J. Baker, M. Knight and D. Starke. Formals and tuxedos have been replaced by sport clothes and L. Pariberg, M. Suppes, M. Geyer, M. Bierlein, S. Fisher, and T. Mueller have a grand time at M. Suppes's house following the prom.

PAGE 55, Top, left to right, Unaware that a cameraman had been watching them, C. Bleke and M. Warnick relax after a dance. The bridge was a popular picture-taking place. Here K. Janson and K. Worley pose; also R. Schmitzer and E. Hecht. Sitting amid the flowers are H. Lelo, R. Fischer, D. Grainger, and M. Haas. Watching others dancing are D. Zuellig and M. Hecht. Smiling for the camera are L. Huber and his date. "Boy, I'm glad to get rid of those feet," the shoes seem to say, as several girls do a polka in the background. Standing, K. Bickel, M. Mueller, L. Rodammer, M. Warnick, C. Bleke, and J. Voorheis; seated, J. Rodammer, two visitors, E. Brender, a visitor, and S. Reinert take time out for refreshments. Mr. Matteson eyes the dance floor, while Mr. Ziehmer eyes Mr. Matteson. Their wives are in the background. B. Barczak and K. Ruff take time out for a picture. Members of the faculty also attended the prom: Miss Simko and escort, Mr. and Mrs. Ziehmer, and Mr. and Mrs. Matteson.

Duffield takes the hand-off from D. Olsen. Panting the last few steps to the finish line is T. Leach. It must have been a successful track meet for team members J. Zehnder, G. Frank, and T. Leach. T. Keinath looks for the next hurdle as he easily clears those behind. J. Duffield, W. Reinbold, R. Heine, and D. Olsen pose for the photographers at the finish of the 880 relay.

PAGE 70, Top, left to right, The Frankenmuth delegation appears to be in deep thought at the Mock Political Convention sponsored by the Saginaw Youth Council. M. Neuchterlein gives his vice-presidential campaign speech. Alfred Zink, T. Keinath, M. Knight, and M. Suppes look on as M. Voorheis receives his National Honor Society membership card from G. Frank. "Faculty, faculty" rang the cheers as B. Sloan and L. Curtis cheered for the annual Faculty vs. Intramural Stars basketball game. Enthusiasm ran high among FHS students at the snake dance preceding the Cass City football game. D. Frakes and R. Schnierla, a '59 graduate of FHS, sit out a dance. Enjoying each others company at a school dance are C. McConnell and T. Weiss. R. Fischer and M. Mueller have pulled one over on S. LaRiviere, a bag, that is! J. Lindow concentrates on his mechanical drawing. L. Curtis talks over show "biz" with L. Rodammer and J. Hildner preceding a speech class play. Shop members D. Krueger, M. Block, A. Haubenstricker, J. Korf, and D. Lindow work earnestly at a shop project. Balloons are showered upon the crowd at the crowning of the Krazy Karnival King and Queen.

 forget. Kim.

Ruth -
 How about going to the college? I can't wait to see you. I will be glad to see you when you come home.
 I hope you will be a success in what ever you do.

His -
 To one of the nicest persons I have ever met may God grant all your wishes.

Ruth -
 To the nicest
 and most wonderful fine girl I know. Keep up the work. I hope will have a lot of good times in the future.
 God bless you and keep you
